Engaged in Regional Planning

Engaged in regional planning is defined as participating in and contributing to regional planning, regional plan implementation, and regional performance negotiations. The Local Area hereby certifies that it has participated in and contributed to regional planning and negotiating regional performance measures in the following ways:

The Los Angeles County Workforce Development Board (LACWDB) and the Los Angeles County Department of Economic Opportunity (DEO) hosted and managed three (3) of the ten (10) regional planning community and stakeholder forums. DEO contributed to the discussion of local and regional initiatives in climate and environmental sustainability by providing the County’s latest sustainability plan, which serves as an opportunity to simultaneously address issues spanning environmental protection, economic opportunity improvements, and equity advancement. The LACWDB also reached consensus on two regional indicators and outlined feasible performance metrics in the regional plan. As such, the Local Area certifies that it actively participates in and contributes to regional planning efforts and the negotiation of regional performance measures in alignment with state and federal expectations. This includes engagement in regional planning sessions convened by the Los Angeles Basin Regional Planning Unit (LABRPU), where the Local Area contributes to the development of strategic priorities, review of labor market information, and coordination of shared implementation strategies. The LABRPU collaborates with neighboring workforce development areas to inform and support the regional plan, particularly in efforts to align training investments with in-demand sectors and to expand equitable access to services across the region. In preparation for and during regional performance measure negotiations, the Local Area provides relevant performance data, offers context related to local economic conditions and program capacity, and works to ensure that negotiated targets reflect both state priorities and local realities. The Local Area also contributes to joint initiatives aimed at improving business engagement, advancing sector-based approaches, and promoting equity in service delivery, consistent with the broader goals outlined in the regional workforce plan.
